THE VIRTUES OF LAMB.

Since in this climate it is considered of essential that we have next to our tables even in the heart of summer weather, wisdom points the way to lamb as the best choice. Great as it is, it is possible, new potatoes make a desirable accompaniment when properly served.

Edmonton's butcher shops have a fair supply of very good mutton that is known as lamb or mutton—according to what the purchaser makes or enquires for.

In choosing lamb, it is to be remembered the flesh must be like that of mutton, rather dark and the fat white. The shorter the quarters the better the meat. According to the quality of mutton, the fat is the better the meat.

To make it after placing in the pan spread a little salt, pepper and butter over and cover with a piece of butter paper. Have the left hand of the pan covered with cold water and baste often until done. It may be served with the gravy only after having

IS CANADIAN WEST TOO SUNNY?

Rev. C. E. Huestis Says we are Neurotic—Discussion of the Point

Charles E. Woodruff, M.D., a United States army surgeon, has written a book which has had considerable vogue, and has provoked with discussion, perhaps partly because of its bearing on United States territorial ambitions. Its title is, "The Effect of Tropical Light on White Men."

Dr. Woodruff argues that it is the excess of light in the tropics, not the heat, that fights against white success in those regions. To him, he says, the tropics are fatal. He argues that if the disability were due to the heat rays, the presence of pigment in the skin would count heavily against the dark-skinned races, and in favor of the white races. As the contrary is the experience, the blood after a very short period of exposure to the sun, the neurotic and breaking down physically and mentally, he contends that it is the light rays which do the mischief.

Dr. Woodruff's theory has been adopted by R. E. Hewitt, of Redwood, formerly pastor of the Methodist church, Edmonton, who in the Western Canadian Medical Journal, applies it to the Canadian Northwest. He asserts that the inhabitants of that region are neurotic, and attributes the conditions to the excess of sunshine with which the ing removed the fat, or it may come to the table with a garniture of such rooms or mutton.

A broast of lamb is excellent when put in a saucepan. It should be covered with cold water and simmered with a small onion with one clove stuck in two sticks of parsley, a piece of carrot, one of turnip and a seasoning of salt.

Boil gently until the bones can be taken out. Remove from the fire and pull all the smaller bones out. Cut out the large one. The broast should then be placed in a baking pan, flattened on the top with a weight and left until cold. Cut the pieces in whatever shape desired. They are best seasoned with pepper and salt, dipped in beaten egg and sifted cracker crumbs, then browned in butter and sent to table surrounded with tomato sauce.

The French ways for this dish is to use a little of the fat in a colander to utilize the left overs from the day before.

Human Goodness.

The first essential of human goodness is something to love; the second something to reverence.

—GEORGE ELIOT.

One Man's Menu.

Since Upton Sinclair wrote "The Jungle," and the States generally, to deem Mr. Sinclair is almost sure of getting a hearing for anything he writes, he contributed the following article on dietetics, to the New York Times:

Approval of your discussion of Professor Cuthbert's simple diet to which I am moved to present the following sample of the regime which he would follow for a month.

One cup of cold water (two tins).
Half a pound of butter.
Dinner (12.30).

One lamb chop, or plate of soup.
—One small potato.
One saucer of some other vegetable—say, green beans.

Four one-inch cubes of butter.
One saucer of rice pudding, custard or fruit.

Supper (6 p.m.).
Sixty of rice and butter.
Sauce of uncooked cereal and cream.

Sauce of fruit and cream.
Three meals of this sort if cheerfully and slowly put away will absolutely cure dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation. If the person who eats this will also abstain from tobacco and money making, will sleep with his head open, take a cold bath, and get some one to help him, he will find himself free from disease, colds and sore throat, stomach, liver and kidney troubles, alcoholism, and other abnormal cravings, nervous depression, insomnia, ill temper, neuritis, drowsy, philosophic pessimism and political conservatism. It is cordial to the reader.

One on the Bishop.
At a recent dinner in Philadelphia Archbishop Ryan and Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf were seated side by side in front of them was one of those celebrated Virgilians which make the mouths of men water.

Turning to his neighbor the Archbishop asked him to pass the salt. "My dear Rabbi, when may I help you to some of this delicious meat?" With every word, with the Rabbi smilingly replied:

"At your service, your Grace."

country is favored. Dr. A. G. Webster takes issue with Rev. Mr. Huestis, and asserts that the Northwest sunlight is a blessing. He admits that sunlight destroys protoplasm, but he argues that the active rays which accomplish the destruction do not penetrate the skin, the dermis offering an effective barrier as the pigment in the skin of the darker races. His view is that the tropical heat is the bar to the white success in those regions, and that the neurotic of the Northwest is not due to sunshine, save as it may be its tonic effect led to excessive expenditure of energy. He admits that the force of fierce sunlight may be injurious because of its effect on the eyes.

The New York Medical Record remarks the vast experiment going on in the Canadian Northwest as likely to either confirm or refute Woodruff's theory of the deleterious action of the light rays on the white races. If Woodruff is right, the present settlers of the Northwest must inevitably give up before the veto of nature to fresh rays of the same race; and the performance must be repeated, until so either by selection, acclimation or population to the conditions, or introduce people of swarthy hue. But Woodruff may not be right—and people in the West will rather fancy he isn't—and may not have correctly estimated and balanced the conditions. Perhaps when the logic of experience has shown his theory to be false, some one will come along with the factor which has left out of his calculations, will show that the light rays in northern latitudes are not so different to white men, or that the temperature moderates them so as to make them conducive to race procreation. There is no doubt to be found for placing more of the blame for white endemism in the ### Emperor Pleased With It.

Tokio, July 18.—The conference of Korea with the Emperor in Korea yesterday lasted one hour. It is reported that the emperor appeared in a manner satisfactory to the Japanese, and without doing anything derogatory to the Korean court.

Marquis Ito, it is said, carefully avoided making any definite reply and retired without committing himself. Foreign Minister Hayashi of Japan arrived at Seoul late last night and remained a heavy security. He arrived immediately to Marquis Ito's residence.

Die Martyr's Death.

A number of Koreans calling their selves elder statesmen of Korea have sent a long letter to Marquis Ito, intimating that they will support the emperor's policy in fair dealing towards the emperor, but failing that, they would die a martyr's death, and that the whole nation would do likewise. They declared that the court was implicated in sending the deputation to the Hague.

INVESTIGATING THE BREAK-DOWN.

Mr. A. F. Dillinger, the expert sent out by the Railway Commission, has reported on the conditions of the Canadian Northern as these relate to the ability of the company to carry on the business of a railway. His report may be fairly summarized as follows:

1—That the company fails to provide adequate accommodation for receiving and loading, and facilities for carrying, unloading and delivering traffic with out delay and with due care and diligence.

2—That the company fails to provide the number of cars required when and where required, and is unable to utilize those it has to the best advantage.

3—That the company is not possessed of the necessary equipment and accommodation for handling the traffic likely to be offered during the next two years.

The causes of the breakdown in the system during the past winter he enumerates—

1—The lack of motive power and cars to move the traffic offered.

2—The need of additional facilities, such as round houses and repair or machine shops at different points on its system properly and expeditiously to care for the same.

3—The severity of the winter.

4—The want of proper equipment to keep the track clear from ice and snow.

5—The absence of organization in the operation of its system.

Eliminating from these the elements due to the unusual severity of the winter it is still Mr. Dillinger's opinion apparently that the equipment, facilities and organization of the system are not sufficient to properly handle the traffic during an ordinary winter.

This is a severe arraignment and yet assuming it to be accurate, it is neither an unmitigated nor an unprecedented condition of affairs.

The Canadian Northern is yet only in the creative stage. The fact that the rails is only the first step in the real construction of a new railway. It remains still to provide stations, freight sheds, car shops, round houses and all the other facilities incident to running trains and handling passengers and freight, and also to equip the road with the locomotives and cars necessary to handle the traffic. This is ordinarily the work of a decade and the Canadian northern has been in operation less than two years. The marvel is not that the system broke down last winter; only a miracle could have prevented it doing so.

The failure of the Canadian Northern railway has been due to an excess of enterprise rather than to a lack of enterprise. It failed because it over-reached and undertook to do more than it was in a position to do. Had the company extended their main line only as they had been able to procure full equipment and establish full facilities, Edmonton would not have had railway competition yet. Had they been lacking in enterprise when they had the opportunity to acquire the Regina-Prince Albert line an opportunity would have been lost to get out of the hands of the Canadian Pacific railway and to introduce competition where the monopoly had ruled supreme.

Over-confident and on empty doubtless was the country to be left off with than without the road, and reasonable allowance should be made for the difficulties of transmitting a string of hastily-laid rails into a fully equipped and organized railway system. The more so that the order books show the company are making a laudable effort to procure equipment from the Canadian Northern. Mr. Dillinger turned his attention to the Canadian Pacific and it is to be hoped and expected that he will develop the same class according to the conditions of that road as he did to the former.

The quality of service rendered by the Canadian Pacific railway indicates that there is ample room for an investigation. During the past winter the breakdown on some of the shorter branches was quite as decisive as on the main line of the Canadian Northern, and the general character of the service during the past decade indicates either that the road has been under-equipped or that the management have not been working overtime to accommodate their patrons.

For the delay in freight, which was the normal characteristic of that road in its earlier needed Edmonton; for the car shortage which tied up the coal mines last winter when the people of Saskatchewan were practically without fuel; and for the complete blockade of its shorter branches six months ago, the Canadian Pacific has not the excuse of the Canadian Northern. It has been in operation for more than twenty years and has been a great money maker for the greater portion of that time. The company has therefore had every opportunity to accumulate ample locomotive power and rolling stock, and to establish all necessary facilities and accommodation for handling its traffic. For the past decade it has had nothing to do but to keep abreast of the country, and there are some pretty good reasons for believing that it has not even done this. These are matters upon which the inquiries of Mr. Dillinger should throw light.

HORSE BEATING.

Recorder Dupas, of Montreal, decided recently that because it is sometimes stipulated that a man be flogged until blood is drawn, therefore a horse may be flogged to the same degree without fear of the law. This may be good law, but it is mighty and logic. A man is not ordered to be flogged unless he deserves to be half killed; a horse, in seven cases out of ten, is whipped simply because it is tired or overloaded, in two more cases because it is lazy or nervous, and in the other usually because the driver is lucky. None of these are criminal offences—in the horse. Yet the decision of Recorder Dupas would permit an intemperate brute to belabor a horse for any cause and to any degree, so long as he did not happen to cut the skin sufficiently to cause blood to flow. This may be the literal stipulation of the written law; it certainly never was the purpose of any civilized law-maker.

ON THE SIDE.

Hon. Frank Cochrane has escaped from the New Ontario recessionist.

The Toronto Telegram believes the pumpkin crop of Canada exceeds the output of poetry. Well, in quality, yes.

Premier Roblin will roset to the last ditch the sinister attempt of the J. T. P. to approach the sacred precincts of Bill and Dan.

Calgary Herald: "It is now on the tapis that the Fifteenth Light Horse band will play before His Majesty the King." And the selection should be the national anthem.

Mr. Hargrove thinks the Opposition will carry twenty-five seats in Quebec at the next election—a pretty fair illustration of how erroneously these gentlemen usually think.

A seven year old boy, described as Claude Edward Watson Thomas Gibson, crossed the Atlantic alone by the liner Merion. His name was disjointed and stored below probably.

The Winnipeg Telegram discourses on "legal hedonists," in every sentence, of the wet blanket that smothered the criminal action against its honored self and Mr. Geo. W. Woods.

The new general manager of the C.N.R. has the best wishes of scores of Edmonton friends. The wishes are that he will remove our gratitude for kicking the system into shape before he snows them.

A COMPELLOUS APOSTROPHE.

"It would be idle for me to tell you that the past year has been one of unexampled prosperity in every branch of Canadian industry. You all know it. Prosperity came upon us on every hand. The artisan, the farmer, the manufacturer, the financier, the professional man, the railway magnate, all reap their share of the benefits of this great country of ours. In this great period of prosperity every factory in the country is working to full capacity and yet orders are being declined every day. Canada is growing so fast that her output of her factories cannot equal her demand, and she has to depend on outside sources of supply. Industrial expansion has been unimpeded by the growth in population, and the consequent greater demand for goods.

"But the fact remains that the condition of the export trade is far from satisfactory, and this is due partly to the lack of transportation facilities, and partly to the stringency of the money market, caused by the tying up of vast sums in enterprises which will be non-productive for some years, thus lessening the amount of capital which can be devoted to the expansion of our manufacturing industries."

No, dear reader, this is not an extract from an election address written in advance by some aspirant for a liberal nomination. It isn't part of a speech of victory to be delivered at St. Wilfrid Laurier on his arrival at Rimouski. It isn't an excerpt from a speech of July oration by the leading orator of a youth's debating club.

It is—it seems almost a shame to say so, with Sir Charles Tupper on his way to the country where, ten years ago he heard the wail of ruined industries—it is an expression of opinion by John Firstbrook, president, delivered at a meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' association held in Toronto a couple of days ago.

It seems impossible, but there is the fact, as undeniable as the conditions described.

A LIVE GOVERNMENT.

(Vermilion Signal.) The Alberta government has shown itself alive to the interests of the province and the electorate which placed it in power and this suggestion regarding the establishment of a competitive plant to handle meat products seems on the face of it a good one and worthy of its serious consideration. It is felt by the association that there is danger of the big company being able to fix its own price for stock unless the government will take this matter up. The price of the province ought to urge it upon the attention of the cabinet, and much urging should not be necessary.

HEIR TO EARLDOM WORKS AS STOKER

Brother of Earl of Leitrim Gives up Fortune and Social Position

New York, July 18.—English society will be startled when it is learned that the Hon. Francis Patrick O'Donnell, the 22-year-old son of the late Earl of Leitrim, has renounced his position as heir presumptive to that title. He also sacrifices the $40,000 a year income that goes with the title. All this simply to become a stoker in the grimy hold of an Atlantic liner.

It was discovered yesterday that the young nobleman left the family estate at Mulroy, County Donegal, Ireland, more than a month ago and shipped aboard the steamship St. Louis, of the American line, at Southampton, as a stoker.

Since then his brother, the present Earl of Leitrim, has been searching in vain for the runaway. Financial efforts have been made by his family to keep his activities secret. Although it had been whispered in London and Southampton that some young nobleman had taken passage on a steamship at Southampton it was not known that he was a member of such a noble family.

The prospective earl has served as a midshipman in the British navy, and his love of the sea, together with his disgust for the idleness in which his position had forced him to live, are said to be the reasons that sent him abroad to make his fortune with his own hands.

With the determination to get active work and shift for himself, he went to Southampton in search of employment.

His experience as midshipman led him to the wharves of that busy port, and the day of the steamship's departure, on the trip before last, found him in line with a dozen others seeking work aboard.

The young nobleman is of good stature and strong build. He is educated at one of the big English public schools, and, while there, was something of an athlete. He had no trouble in getting work on the big liner, and Assistant Engineer Dehem, of the St. Louis, took him on as a stoker without knowing his identity.

On the first day out he was almost overcome by the hard shoveling in the overboarded stoke-hole, but his athletic training stood him in good stead. According to Dehem, he was as able to perform his work as any of the other men after the first day.

He landed in New York with $3 in his pocket—his wages for the trip—plus clothes on his back and handkerchiefs. What his plans were, he told no one on board, except to say that he intended to get work in New York. "That boy is all right," said Engineer Dehem to an American reporter yesterday and he won't have any trouble in making his way. He was as hard and as well as the best of them. He did not mix with any of the crew and seldom talked, though he wasn't unkind.

Family Think He Is Crazy.

"His family think he is crazy and are doing everything to get him back. When his brother, the earl, came to the ship on our return to Southampton, he told me Clement's mother and sister had considerable money or other things always kept them busy with charities and such things, instead of living idly like the other boys. He can't understand that Clement wants to get out and work for himself."

Clement shipped under the name of Blane and preserved his identity all the way across. It was not until the ship returned to Southampton that the stokers learned they had been working side by side with a prospective earl.

His food was the rough fare that the others lived on, and his sleeping quarters were in one of the stoke-hole built in time of three, one above the other, that are provided for the stokers. He worked fully twelve hours a day and seldom was allowed above the stokers' quarters, except to go on the stowage deck.

Clement's family is descended from General Daniel Clements, who went to Ireland with Cromwell and started the line. The family estate at Mulroy is one of the most extensive in the north of Ireland.

His brother, the present earl, holds a seat in the English House of Lords as Baron Clements. The present earl served as a lieutenant of the Irish Lancers in the Boer war.

Biological Station on Coast.

Victoria, B.C., July 18.—Professor Ramsay Wright, of the faculty of Toronto university, is in the city, having come west with Prof. F. H. Price, of Ottawa. The object of his visit, says the Pacific coast is connected with the location of the biological station, which is to be established by the fisheries and marine department. Tomorrow morning Prof. Ramsay Wright and Prof. Price will leave for Nanaimo for the purpose of inspecting Department Bay. The one station likely to be selected for the station.

Speaking of the objects to be attained by the biological station he says that it will be similar to the one on the Atlantic coast where research has been carried on for some time. Attention will be given to the study of marine life in all its different phases, the station being under the marine and fisheries department.

Police Hounded Him.

Toronto, July 18.—The police gave Robert Pickens a pretty bad character in court today, saying his character on Louisa street was the worst for thieves and other bad characters, and a dive of the worst description. Pickens in reply said the police hounded him so he could have no other associates. He admitted having been fined for selling liquor without trade license to give Pickens another chance and expected sentence.

COAL SHORTAGE NEXT WINTER

Cars Not Commence Fast Enough
—Two Mines Closed Down
Says Regina Man.

Regina, July 18.—J. Russell Smith, of the Smith & Ferguson Coal company, returned yesterday from a week's trip through the west, during which he visited the coal mines about Perth and Lethbridge and the other sources of supply from which his firm draws. During his trip he made a personal inspection of the mines and talked with the managers and he returns home convinced that next year there is bound to be a shortage of coal.

The trouble at present seems to be the shortage of cars. At this time of the year cars are usually plentiful, but this season it seems impossible to keep the mines supplied. It is on account of this shortage that the Hill Crest mines were closed down, and the Fenwick mine also closed down, leaving only a few to run.

The C. P. R. is trucking all the coal in sight and is having a big supply in for next winter. The company is erecting sheds at different points and is contracting for all the coal that it is possible to secure. The result is that there is bound to be a shortage of that class of fuel.

Gift coal is coming in from the west in the form of Lethbridge mine, and the next three months it is expected that the supply will be good, if the cars can be secured to take the fuel out. Manager Naylor, of the Lethbridge mine, however, is of the opinion that there must be a lot of coal stored in the cellars of the citizens this fall and summer, or there will be a shortage next winter. When it was pointed out to him that the people were averse to laying in a supply during the hot summer months, he merely smiled and said there would be a lot who would be sorry they had not got it a supply when next winter comes around.

Result of the Earthquake and Fire

San Francisco, July 18.—This week Chinatown will reclaim its own. In the old section, back of the waterfront square, along the line of the most famous Oriental colony in the new world, a new Chinatown has been built to replace the old one wiped out by the conflagration. The new one, built in the new haven begun and by the end of the week all of the 12,000 manufacturing, mercantile, and service trades will have moved there and all the water front and resumed their old life in the Chinatown of history.

New buildings have been erected to accommodate the little army of American and Chinese who have been driven out of the city except that there will be no new houses. The new town of the Chinese is a godsend.

"Gods don't pay," So declares President Joo Bee. Tarn of the Ning Yung association, president of the Chinese Six companies. President Joo is found in the engine for his learning, having been professor of literature and the classics in a Chinese university before coming to America. He declares that the justice and the ideal have become objects of levity among all but the most superstitious of Chinese, and that their only excuse for existence is money-making institutions.

They are no longer profitable. Therefore the gods must go.

No more will be shaken by being, grain-magging birds, with hollow, grating faces set upon respect, at times, but longer in settings of disguise unbridled, with the constant drip of

Site to be Surveyed at once and Work Will Start—Telephone
Work

Medicine Hat, July 18.—W. F. Knowles, M.P., has sent word here to have the army site surveyed by a civil engineer, preparatory to the calling for tenders for the new army building. The site is in the park on block 3, north of the bridge on Third avenue.

The steamer started up the river for Lethbridge last night, but after a few miles above Bow Island on the Belly river found that the stream was not deep enough for navigation. The trip was a delightful one, as far as it went and those returning a pleasant outing. The return trip was started this morning at 1 o'clock and the steamer arrived in port about eleven tonight.

At our old job house, which was destroyed by fire, we made a small port from the sale of junk and other articles to tourists. The house has been destroyed and is replaced by a new one. I do not believe that anyone will be sufficient to support a job house in San Francisco. Chinese are rapidly becoming Americanized and now have little regard for their religion or their fathers' law, if might add, for any other. I do not think there will ever be another job house in the city. Gods don't pay.

INDIAN SWAM FOR NINE HOURS

With Woman and Child—Marvellous Feat of British Columbia Indian

Vancouver, July 18.—For nine hours last night, Chief Charlie, of Squamish Indians, swam down the Fraser river in a canoe, with a woman and child, and all the time he was being watched by the police. The feat was a remarkable one, as the river is very swift and the canoe is very small.

From three o'clock in the afternoon until midnight, he held the canoe in the river, but by the time he had reached the point where the river is very narrow, he was forced to land. The woman and child were safe, but the canoe was damaged.

KOREA'S KING RESIGNS TODAY

Japan Gains Its End—Abdication of Emperor Has Been Forced

Tokyo, July 18.—Several advisers say that the abdication ceremony of the Emperor of Korea has been arranged to take place today.

The cabinet ministers waited in an adjoining room, while the emperor conferred with the elder statesmen. After a two-hour conference His Majesty finally yielded and made up his mind to abdicate.

It was decided to hold the abdication ceremony at ten o'clock this morning. Much unrest prevails about the palace and at another place a crowd of 7,000 is assembled. A portion of this crowd assembled the office of daily Kookmin, but the mob was dispersed before any damage was inflicted.

Foreign Laborer Drawn.—Port Arthur, July 18.—The body of a drowned man, apparently a Russian or Galician laborer, was found today in a badly decomposed condition in a room of late old dock at George's Wharf, an employee of the Fraser-Spear Lumber Company made the discovery.
